Job Description

Employees in these positions are responsible for monitoring the activities of occupants and guests and the physical conditions of the residence halls during the night in order to control non-resident access to the halls and to enforce campus regulations. The attendants perform their duties at a fixed post in a residence hall and/or by patrolling an assigned area, without the use of firearms or other protective instruments. The higher levels of the series supervise and train the Attendants; develop regulations and policies for the residence hall controlled access programs; and act as person in charge in dealing with emergency situations or individuals who are breaking laws, rules, or regulations prior to the arrival of a superior or a police officer.
