Job Description

The School of Nursing is seeking applicants for an Endpoint Support Analyst. This position provides technical and service-related support on a range of technologies in one or more of the following information technology areas: system administration, operating system support, and implementation or user/client services and desktop application.

The work of the Information Technology Specialist will vary depending on the needs of the organization and the competencies of the individual and will range from providing Tier I support to leading projects to providing high-level technical expertise on highly complex matters. The work of an IT specialist will also range from generalist work to in depth support for a more narrowly defined field. See leveling guidelines for further information and minimum qualifications.
