Job Description

The Office of Development and the College of Sciences and Mathematics are conducting a search for a Director of Development who can effectively and diplomatically work with prospects and donors, colleagues, high-level administrators, volunteer leaders, parents, corporations and foundations, and other constituents to secure philanthropic support that enhances the student experience at Auburn University. The ideal candidate is a collaborative, energetic professional with strong management skills and sound judgment who can perform the role of a major gift fundraiser and unit leader for the College of Sciences and Mathematics Development Office. The Director will jointly report to the Associate Vice President for Constituent Development and the Dean of the College of Sciences and Mathematics. The College of Sciences and Mathematics (COSAM) is proud to contribute to the success of every student at Auburn University by teaching the core courses in science and mathematics taken by all students, providing them with a foundation to support success in their chosen major. COSAM is a campus leader in incorporating the latest instructional technologies and methods. The college provides
