The University of California, Berkeley, is one of the world's leading institutions of higher education, distinguished by its combination of internationally recognized academic and research excellence; the transformative opportunity it provides to a large and diverse student body; its public mission and commitment to equity and social justice; and its roots in the California experience, animated by such values as innovation, questioning the status quo, and respect for the environment and nature. Since its founding in 1868, Berkeley has fueled a perpetual renaissance, generating unparalleled intellectual, economic and social value in California, the United States and the world.

We are looking for equity-minded applicants who represent the full diversity of California and who demonstrate a sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, socioeconomic, cultural, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation, and ethnic backgrounds present in our community. When you join the team at Berkeley, you can expect to be part of an inclusive, innovative and equity-focused community that approaches higher education as a matter of social justice that requires broad collaboration among faculty, staff, students and community partners. In deciding whether to apply for a position at Berkeley, you are strongly encouraged to consider whether your values align with our Guiding Values and Principles, our Principles of Community, and our Strategic Plan.

At UC Berkeley, we believe that learning is a fundamental part of working, and our goal is for everyone on the Berkeley campus to feel supported and equipped to realize their full potential. We actively support this by providing all of our staff employees with at least 80 hours (10 days) of paid time per year to engage in professional development activities. Departmental Overview

Berkeley Public Health (BPH) aims to improve population health, especially for the most vulnerable populations, through interdisciplinary collaborations, preeminent education, and transformational research. Established in 1943, BPH is a professional school on the UC Berkeley campus that comprises six academic divisions and nearly 30 research centers and programs. Our department's values include social justice, health as a right, challenging conventional thought, embracing diversity, and creating meaningful impact. We honor our principles of community by centering and valuing everyone in our community; prioritizing prevention while remaining grounded in social justice; promoting safety and respect; practicing self-care and kindness; and remaining optimistic, hopeful, and committed to change. engagement. Youth and Allies Against Homelessness (YAAH) (YAAH.berkeley.edu) is a research lab within i4Y comprised of youth from the community with lived experience of homelessness as well as undergraduate and graduate students who have either experienced homelessness or who have demonstrated a commitment to ending homelessness.\

Position Summary

The YAAH Lab Coordinator/Project Policy Analyst (PPA) is a core member of Youth and Allies Against Homelessness. YAAH is a youth-partnered research group focused on describing and addressing the social determinants of health of youth experiencing homelessness (YEH) led by Professor Auerswald.

The incumbent will be responsible for supporting multiple research projects for the YAAH lab, in collaboration with Professor Auerswald, the Principal Investigator, as well as post-doctoral scholars, graduate students, and undergraduates. The projects include the mixed-method evaluation of state funding for YEH under the Homeless Housing Assistance and Prevention (HHAP) youth set-aside funds; a collaborative project with Covenant House International, the largest provider for youth experiencing homelessness in North America, to expand knowledge regarding the prevention of youth homelessness in historically marginalized populations' and internships to train youth exiting homelessness in community-engaged, youth-partnered research.

The incumbent will be responsible for supporting the day-to-day implementation and management of the research projects.
