In addition, each academic advisor in the SEAS Office of Academic Affairs has their own area of responsibility where they devote approximately 20% of their professional obligation. International student experience preferred.

Responsibilities Include:

- Provide academic advisement to empower SEAS students to be active, responsible learners who will set goals, develop plans, learn to overcome difficulty, and take full advantage of the many opportunities the university provides in the areas of academics, research, community, and global engagement in the timely attainment of their degree, in support of SEAS and UB goals.
- Ensure that student academic records accurately reflect their progress in completing requirements by processing Academic Advisement Report (AAR) exceptions or appropriate forms, as necessary. Utilize expertise to complete academic reviews for degree audit, to support financial aid reviews, and to inform advising practices.
- Assist with the recruitment, admission, retention, and success of all students in the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences.
- Coordinate admission and advisement procedures for transfer students seeking admission into SEAS, including application review, processing, and outreach
