Open Until Filled: Yes

Position Description

Position Overview:

This position is assigned to the Equal Employment Opportunity Compliance and Recruitment Services Department of the Human Resources (HR) Division. Under the general direction of the Associate Vice President of Human Resources (AVPHR), the incumbent in this position serves as a liaison between the AVPHR, staff, and the campus community.

The HR Division is a fast-paced ever changing work environment; the incumbent in this position must possess the ability to adapt and pivot to meet workload demands as needed. The incumbent must be able to demonstrate initiative to oversee and carry out complex projects and tasks without direct intervention. Active listening, verbal, written, and communication skills are critical to the incumbents success. Additionally, utilizing critical thinking, independent judgment, and leadership skills is imperative to be efficient in this position. This includes being familiar with processes, procedures, and the scope of responsibility to make decisions on behalf of the AVPHR.

Definition:

Under general direction, oversees and manages a variety of complex and responsible administrative support for the assigned senior administrator or designee. Performs a wide variety of intermediate and highly complex duties requiring thorough knowledge of the assigned division, its policies, procedures, and operational details. Incumbents in this classification are designated as "confidential employees" as this term is used within the Educational Employment Relations Act (EERA), 3540.1. As such, incumbents in this classification assist management personnel with developing collective bargaining proposals and/or have regular access to information which contributes to the development of managements collective bargaining positions and/or labor relations strategies.

Supervision Received and Exercised:

Receives general direction from an assigned senior administrator or designee. Exercises technical and functional direction over and provides training to student workers or hourly workers, and to less experienced administrative support staff, as assigned.

Class Characteristics:

This is the entry level of the executive support series and is assigned to a senior administrator. Responsibilities require a high level of tact, discretion, and independent judgment, as well as, a thorough knowledge of divisional/departmental and College activities. The work requires the interpretation and application of complex policies, procedures, and regulations and involves frequent contact with the public, as well as performing various research and budgetary support functions. This class is distinguished from other administrative classifications by the higher level of responsibility assumed, the greater complexity of duties assigned, and by the nature, scope, and diversity of responsibilities having College-wide impact that require a broader understanding of College functions and the capability of relieving College management staff of day-to-day office administrative and coordinative duties. This class is further distinguished from the Executive Assistant II in that the latter assists and acts in a confidential capacity to a Cabinet level administrator related to formulating, determining, and implementing management policies in the area of collective bargaining and is required to maintain a high level of confidentiality.

Examples of Essential Functions(Illustrative Only):

1. Organizes and oversees multiple complex projects and programs for the assigned senior administrator.
2. Assists and maintains department/division goals, objectives, policies, procedures, work standards, and administrative control systems; acts as the liaison between the division, department, the College, and outside agencies and other entities; participates in committees formed for programs and projects; presents committees recommendations to the division/department head.
3. Maintains calendar and coordinates the schedule of the assigned senior level administrator and makes travel arrangements.
4. Oversees and performs intermediate-level executive work in such areas as budget development, purchasing, contract administration, management analysis, project management, and program evaluation.
5. Processes and prepares a variety of documents, materials, and records according to established procedures and practices using independent judgment.
6. Conducts a variety of intermediate analytical studies, research, and statistical analyses on administrative and operational problems or issues regarding divisional/departmental activities; evaluates alternatives, makes recommendations, and assists with the implementation of procedural, administrative, and/or operational changes after approval.
