Description

WELCOME TO SANTA MONICA COLLEGE!

Thank you for your interest in this position. The Stage Technician-Sound operates, maintains, adjusts, and repairs sound and projection equipment to support the Theatre Arts Department, Performing Arts Center and other college venue productions. There is currently one vacancy in the Theatre Arts Department. This position is scheduled to work a variable hours schedule, 40 hours per week, 12 months per year. The current vacancy is scheduled to work variable hours, and will receive a corresponding 5% pay differential in addition to the stated salary.

What You Will Bring to the College

The ideal candidate for this position will collaborate with multiple theatre production specialties and will apply their experience and expertise to independently install and arrange audio components, while applying a high level of precision. This person will have professional experience handling, installing, and operating current industry standard technology and will also have a strong understanding of safety procedures within a theatre setting.
