Position Summary

The University at Buffalo is seeking a University Police Investigator 1. Investigators will investigate both criminal and campus policy violations using the full range of investigative techniques including surveillance and interviews in order to assist in the apprehension and prosecution of suspects and violators. Investigators interview victims, complainants, witnesses and suspects in order to obtain information used in determining criminal guilt, recovering stolen property and preparing depositions and confessions while exercising discretion in determining the content, scope and extent of questioning and observing the civil and constitutional rights of those questioned; confer with other law enforcement officials and district attorneys to convey and obtain information relevant to the conduct of investigations; meet with faculty and student organizations to discuss security problems and develop cooperative relationships between the University Police and campus community; and may conduct confidential background investigations of prospective employees in the Classified and Unclassified Service and employees of the University Police Department. Investigators report directly to the Deputy Chief of Investigations and to the designated Inspector as necessary . Some of the duties include:

Investigate criminal acts such as homicides, sexual assaults, harassments, property crimes, and other criminal violations affecting the university community

Process crime scenes and collect evidence

Conduct and document interviews or interrogations of complainants, victims, witnesses and subjects as required

Provide guidance and assistance to patrol officers with interviews, investigative techniques, and evidence collection

Liaison with local District Attorneys offices, Students Conduct and Advocacy office, Equity office, Diversity and Inclusion office, and other law enforcement agencies

Knowledge of state and local laws related to criminal investigations

Understanding of Clery and Title IX laws.
