for students, faculty and staff.

The University of California, Berkeley, is one of the world's leading institutions of higher education, distinguished by its combination of internationally recognized academic and research excellence; the transformative opportunity it provides to a large and diverse student body; its public mission and commitment to equity and social justice; and its roots in the California experience, animated by such values as innovation, questioning the status quo, and respect for the environment and nature. Since its founding in 1868, Berkeley has fueled a perpetual renaissance, generating unparalleled intellectual, economic and social value in California, the United States and the world.

We are looking for equity-minded applicants who represent the full diversity of California and who demonstrate a sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, socioeconomic, cultural, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation, and ethnic backgrounds present in our community. When you join the team at Berkeley, you can expect to be part of an inclusive, innovative and equity-focused community that approaches higher education as a matter of social justice that requires broad collaboration among faculty, staff, students and community partners. In deciding whether to apply for a position at Berkeley, you are strongly encouraged to consider whether your values align with our Guiding Values and Principles, our Principles of Community, and our Strategic Plan.

At UC Berkeley, we believe that learning is a fundamental part of working, and our goal is for everyone on the Berkeley campus to feel supported and equipped to realize their full potential. We actively support this by providing all of our staff employees with at least 80 hours (10 days) of paid time per year to engage in professional development activities. Departmental Overview

As a central service center for the entire campus, the Graduate Division works to guide and assist students from the moment of admission, through the various milestones of their progress, to the completion of their degree requirements. We provide academic, personal, and professional support services that are vital to the everyday well-being and life-long successes of Berkeley master's, professional, and doctoral students.

As the authoritative resource and chief advocate for graduate education, the Graduate Division ensures the equitable administration of policies governing graduate studies across Berkeley's 14 schools and colleges. As the administrative arm of the Academic Senate's Graduate Council, we partner with the faculty and staff of each program and the deans of each school and college to maintain the world-renowned quality of Berkeley's graduate education. The Graduate Division includes the Office for Graduate Diversity, which is led by the Assistant Dean for Graduate Diversity and includes a highly specialized team that develops, guides, and implements campus-wide graduate diversity programs and initiatives.

Application Review Date

The First Review Date for this job is: February 13, 2024

Responsibilities

The STEM DEI Coordinator will work closely with the departments participating in the Sloan Center for Systemic Change (SCSC) grant to provide support and track the following project components:

Support Self-Studies and Action Plans

- Provide support to the SCSC departments to develop self-studies and action plans of their graduate program climates and to identify their strategic diversity, equity, and inclusion priorities.

Coordinate Leadership and Professional Development

- Coordinate and support professional development and training opportunities for faculty with both internal and external campus partners that foster inclusive climate, belonging, admissions, and data for equity. Opportunities include leveraging the College of Engineering's EMPOWER program, the Graduate Division's Graduate Diversity Admissions Institute, Graduate Diversity Leadership Academy, and the Equity in Graduate Education Consortium (EGE) partnership.

Support Outreach and Recruitment

- Support faculty and departments with developing outreach and recruitment plans, leveraging the Graduate Division's and the University of California Office of the President's annual investments through the Growing Our Own initiative, UCOP-supported UC-HBCU Initiative and UC-HSI Doctoral Diversity Initiative grant programs, and the Native American Opportunity Plan.

- Coordinate peer support and community-building opportunities for minoritized graduate students at the Inclusive Excellence Hub, including participation in the Office for Graduate Diversity's STEM support programs.

Project Coordination, Data Analysis, and Reporting

- Track the departments' progress, maintain all grant project files and documents, and support the use of the Graduate Division's internal data infrastructure and resources for continuous improvement.
- Compile department updates, prepare reports, and conduct data analysis, as needed.

Required Qualifications

- Experience working with Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) academic programs and disciplines.
- Knowledge of best practices for addressing diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging within graduate education, particularly within STEM fields.
- Knowledge of best practices for university admissions outreach, recruitment, and retention of diverse student populations.
- Experience creating partnerships with diverse higher education constituencies (e.g., faculty, staff, students, internal and external and universities).
- Ability in problem identification and reasoning.
- Ability to develop original ideas to solve problems.
- Skills in judgment and decision-making, problem solving, identifying quantitative and qualitative measures of system performance and the actions to improve performance.
- Solid verbal and written communication skills.
- Multicultural competencies and the ability to work with and engage effectively with diverse populations.
- Service oriented, with skills in active listening and critical thinking.
- Highly organized with the ability to multi-task and manage a diverse portfolio of duties.
- Ability to work collaboratively in a fast-paced environment.

Education/Training:

- Bachelor's degree in related area and / or equivalent experience / training.
